CANADA AWARDS FOR EXCELLENCE

Excellence Canada

November 20, 2025

I'm pleased to extend my warm greetings to everyone attending the Performance Excellence Summit and Canada Awards for Excellence, hosted by Excellence Canada.

Congratulations to this year's award recipients. Your dedication to innovation, wellness and continuous improvement reflects the best of Ontario's spirit and values. These awards recognize organizations that are not only thriving today, but also leading the way toward a more resilient and inclusive future.

Ontario is proud to be home to many of the organizations honoured this year. Your leadership in areas like mental health, workplace culture and governance is helping to build stronger communities across the province and beyond.

To all those being recognized, thank you for your commitment and vision. May this achievement inspire you to reach new heights and continue making a meaningful impact.

Enjoy the celebration and my best wishes for your continued success.

MESSAGE FROM THE PREMIER OF QUÉBEC

MESSAGE DU PREMIER MINISTRE

Je tiens à féliciter les récipiendaires des Prix Canada pour l'excellence. Cette 41^e cérémonie souligne l'engagement des entreprises et des organisations d'ici à donner le meilleur d'elles-mêmes et à respecter les plus hauts standards de qualité. Bravo à tous ceux et celles qui sont derrière ces beaux succès!

Année après année, je suis particulièrement fier de voir des organisations québécoises se démarquer et recevoir un Prix Canada pour l'excellence. Étant moi-même issu du monde des affaires, je sais tout le travail qu'il y a en amont de ces réussites. En tant que premier ministre, j'ai à cœur le développement économique, et surtout l'essor de fleurons québécois. C'est pourquoi le gouvernement du Québec déploie des moyens considérables pour que l'excellence, la performance et l'innovation guident nos petites, moyennes et grandes entreprises.

Je remercie Excellence Canada de contribuer à soutenir les meilleures pratiques organisationnelles. Les récompenses prestigieuses décernées ce soir valent de l'or pour les femmes et les hommes qui consacrent leurs efforts à la qualité irréprochable de leurs biens et services.

Félicitations à tous les lauréats!

François Legault

I would like to congratulate all the recipients of the Canada Awards for Excellence. This 41st awards ceremony underscores the dedication of local companies and organizations to giving their best and meeting the highest standards of quality. Congratulations to all of you behind these great accomplishments!

Year after year, I am particularly proud to see Québec enterprises stand out as recipients of the Canada Awards for Excellence. Coming from a business background myself, I understand the amount of effort needed to attain such achievements. I am committed to economic development in my role as premier and, especially, to the growth of Québec's outstanding enterprises. Accordingly, the Gouvernement du Québec invests considerable resources to ensure that excellence, performance and innovation guide our small, medium and large businesses.

I would like to thank Excellence Canada for helping to support best business practices. The prestigious awards presented here tonight are worth their weight in gold to the devoted businesspeople who focus their efforts on offering impeccable goods and services.

Congratulations to all the recipients!

MESSAGE FROM THE PREMIER OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

A MESSAGE from PREMIER DAVID EBY

As Premier of British Columbia, I am pleased to extend warm greetings to everyone attending the 41st Canada Awards for Excellence.

Since 1984, these awards have recognized the achievements of Canadian organizations that have shown a continued commitment to improvement and a pursuit of excellence. Through innovation, agility and sustainable practices, these organizations have proven themselves to be leaders in their respective industries.

I would like to congratulate APEX Food Source, City of Kamloops, and Simon Fraser University for being recognized on their Journey to Excellence as well as all of the winners across Canada. I would also like to thank Excellence Canada for its continued support of Canadian organizations, supplying tools for competitive edge and contributing to economic growth.

Please accept my best wishes for a wonderful event!

MESSAGE FROM THE PREMIER OF ALBERTA

MESSAGE FROM THE PREMIER OF ALBERTA

On behalf of the Government of Alberta, it is my pleasure to congratulate the winners of the 41st Canada Awards for Excellence.

The recipients of these awards have demonstrated outstanding achievement in organizational performance, and I commend their commitment to continuous improvement. Not satisfied with the status quo, they have dedicated their efforts to meeting or exceeding standards that drive excellence in many areas, including leadership, service, planning, and employee engagement and wellness. This passion helps ensure Canada's private, public and not-for-profit organizations, across industries, are competitive, innovative and constantly striving for better outcomes – and that benefits all of us.

Thank you to this year's award winners for modelling excellence and showing the world how Canada gets things done. Thank you as well to Excellence Canada for four decades of improving and recognizing organizational performance across our country.

Congratulations again, and best wishes for continued success.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT & CEO

It is my great pleasure to welcome you to the 41st Annual Canada Awards for Excellence and Performance Excellence Summit. A lot has happened since I joined the organization as CEO just over a year ago.

Whether private, public, or not-for-profit, Canadian organizations are facing a unique blend of challenges that require them to be flexible, resilient, and intentional. Today's realities provide Excellence Canada with the opportunity to return to our original purpose as defined in our updated mission statement: To equip Canadian organizations with the tools to achieve efficiency, agility, and a sustainable competitive advantage.

We're here today to celebrate and recognize Canadian excellence across many dimensions. Many organizations are on a years-long journey, here to be recognized for achieving important and impressive milestones. Others work tirelessly to create safe and healthy cultures, and others are here to be recognized for taking that first important step on their intentional journey to excellence. We're even recognizing the inaugural recipient of the EPIC Award, our first new framework in over a decade.

This year's Special Recognition of Achievement laureate, Louise Bradley, has committed the entirety of her career to improving access to mental health services for people in all parts of our country.

I'm personally inspired by each and every organization and person we're recognizing today. The work they're doing continues to give me hope that Canada, and indeed, Canadians, are up to the challenges we face, those we know about, and those we've yet to encounter.

I come to work every day, ready to live and lead our vision, newly refreshed to drive our work: A Canada where every organization is strong, competitive, and thriving, and ready for what the future brings.

Thank you for investing your time in being here with us today. Merci. Miigwetch.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

Welcome to the 41st Annual Canada Awards for Excellence, where we highlight the intersection of innovation, sustainability, and global competitiveness.

Across the country, organizations are navigating rapid change with new governance models, advancing leadership, renewed offerings, and supporting emerging talent, all ready to shape what comes next. And this spirit of renewal is very much reflected in Excellence Canada's own work this year. We, too, have been evolving, strengthening our governance, refreshing our programs, and building the talent and expertise needed to support organizations in a fast-changing world.

Today, we celebrate those who are raising the bar and showing what excellence looks like in action. Their achievements remind us that renewal, innovation, and strong governance are not just ideals—they are the drivers of Canada's future success.

After eight years, my term as Chair has concluded. It has been an absolute privilege to serve as Chair to this organization and I know that Excellence Canada will continue to thrive with steady continuity and thoughtful leadership with Neil Crawford as our next Chair.

Thank you for being here to celebrate this momentum and everything that lies ahead.

EPIC

Excellence in Productivity, Innovation and Competitiveness Framework

Canadian organizations are facing strong headwinds because of economic and political challenges and uncertainty. Government is acting to mitigate the impact, but leaders need to proactively shock-proof their businesses. Excellence Canada has been working with Canadian organizations since 1984 to establish and manage standards and frameworks that do just that.

To support organizations with the challenges of 2025 and beyond, we proudly announce the launch of the Excellence in Productivity, Innovation, and Competitiveness (EPIC) Framework. Appropriate for all organizations, but geared towards Canada's small and medium sized enterprises, it is a purpose-built management framework that helps organizations achieve sustained excellence through structured planning, customer & market engagement, and technological innovation.

Why EPIC Matters

Every challenge is an opportunity. EPIC provides organizations with a clear, pragmatic path to sustainable performance and measurable results.

EPIC helps organizations:

- Strengthen leadership and accountability
- Build engaged, innovative teams
- Deliver exceptional customer value
- Embed continuous improvement as a way of life

EPIC. Excellence in Action. To learn more, please visit www.excellence.ca/epic

EXCELLENCE COLLABORATIONS

Over the past year, Excellence Canada has been fortunate to collaborate with a variety of remarkable partners, each bringing unique strengths, fresh perspectives, and a shared commitment to raising the bar for excellence across Canada. These collaborations are not just strategic; they are intentional. We seek out partners who challenge us to think differently, who complement our expertise, and who help us create greater value for the people and organizations we serve.

We build these partnerships because we know that meaningful progress doesn't happen in isolation. It happens when we combine knowledge, resources, and passion with those who share our vision. Whether working with academic institutions that fuel innovation, industry leaders who push boundaries, or community organizations that ground us in purpose, each partnership is an essential part of amplifying our impact and expanding what's possible.

Thank you to our valued Collaborators:

MENTAL HEALTH AT WORK® - SILVER

Appeals Commission for Alberta Workers' Compensation (Tribunal)

The Appeals Commission is a quasi-judicial tribunal and is the final level of appeal for decisions made by the Workers' Compensation Board of Alberta. The Appeals Commission is committed to a fair, client-focused experience, while demonstrating its values of respect, service, integrity and accountability. In addition to its adjudicative role, the Appeals Commission operates and administers three independent programs: the Advisor Office, the Medical Panels Program, and an internal Secretariat.

The Appeals Commission is dedicated to continuous improvement in both its services and the quality of its workplace. In recent years there has been an increased focus on ensuring the physical, social and psychological wellbeing of its team. Certification against the National Standard of Canada for Psychological Health and Safety in the Workplace validates what the Tribunal has accomplished so far, and provides a framework for what it intends to achieve in the future.

"I'm proud that the Appeals Commission has achieved Silver in the Canada Awards for Excellence, Mental Health at Work Essentials Framework. This honour recognizes our team's dedication to fostering an exceptional workplace culture and our commitment to communication, client service, and leadership. We're truly honoured to receive this recognition and to stand alongside other respected organizations who share this commitment."

Toronto Police Service

The Toronto Police Service (TPS) is Canada's largest municipal police service, committed to delivering policing excellence to ensure the safety and security of Toronto's more than 3.0 million residents. Guided by its core values of integrity, fairness, respect, and accountability, the Service works in partnership with communities to prevent crime, enhance trust, and keep Toronto one of the safest major cities in the world.

Through its Wellness Strategy, TPS has introduced programs and resources that promote physical, psychological, and social health, including mental health awareness, peer support networks, and resilience training. This focus on creating a healthy, supportive workplace led to TPS becoming the first municipal police service in Canada to achieve Canada Awards for Excellence – Gold Level in Mental Health at Work®.

Myron Demkiw
Chief of Police

"We are proud to be the first municipal police service in Canada to achieve Gold-level recognition for Mental Health at Work®. This certification recognizes our ongoing work to address the mental health and well-being of our members. The nature of our work is inherently stressful, and it is crucial that we help our members be at their best so they can thrive and continue to serve the people of Toronto with excellence. While celebrating this significant milestone, we acknowledge that there is still much work to be done. Member feedback remains essential as the Service strives to strengthen supports and embed mental health into its culture."

Cambridge Memorial Hospital

Cambridge Memorial Hospital (CMH) is committed to fostering a healthy, safe, and engaging workplace for every team member, reflecting its vision of creating healthier communities, together. With a team of over 2,100 staff, physicians, midwives, and volunteers, CMH takes a collaborative, holistic approach to wellness and well-being, ensuring programs meet the diverse needs of its people.

In 2019, CMH adopted the IHI Joy in Work Framework, and incorporated 'Increase Joy in Work' as a strategic priority, which has continued through the 2022-27 Strategic Plan to #reImagineCMH. Signature programs, such as the CMH Paws (Facility Dog) Program, bring comfort and joy to team members on an ongoing basis. Through pursuit of Excellence Canada's Healthy Workplace Gold-level Certification, CMH continues to adapt, grow, and foster a culture where every team member feels valued, supported, and empowered on their own individual journey to well-being.

"We are on a continuous improvement journey, and achieving Gold-level recognition from Excellence Canada is a milestone our entire organization can celebrate. While we're proud of this progress, we remain focused on the opportunities ahead."

HEALTHY WORKPLACE® & MENTAL HEALTH AT WORK® - PLATINUM

Liquor Control Board of Ontario

Established in 1927, the Liquor Control Board of Ontario (LCBO) is a government enterprise and a responsible wholesaler and retailer of wine, beer, cider, and spirits in Ontario. As one of the largest beverage alcohol retailers in the world, the LCBO embraces its role as a leading corporate citizen – governing the responsible sale of alcohol while championing issues that matter to Ontarians.

The LCBO is committed to amplifying a safe, inclusive, and healthy workplace – setting the standard for wellness, safety, and belonging across the province and beyond. The organization prioritizes the holistic health, safety, and wellness of its employees, customers, business partners, and communities, embedding these principles into its core values. This commitment is reinforced by a multi-year mental health strategy, featuring tangible actions to cultivate a psychologically healthy and safe environment for all.

LCBO

At the LCBO, one of our core values is creating a safe place for all – and that begins with supporting the health and well-being of our people. Being recognized with Platinum Status for both a Healthy Workplace and Mental Health at Work Standards is a powerful affirmation of that commitment. We're proud of the work we've done, and continue to do, to lead with purpose and build a culture where everyone feels safe, supported, and included."

City of Trois-Rivières Municipal Administration

The City of Trois-Rivières, resulting from the merger of several municipalities in 2002, is the ninth largest city in Québec. Its municipal administration provides high-quality services to over 142,000 residents through transparent and sustainable management of public resources. The organization includes just over 1,300 employees working in sectors such as public safety, urban planning, culture, leisure, and local services.

Since 2008, Trois-Rivières has fostered a culture of organizational performance and continuous improvement to strengthen both service efficiency and the overall citizen experience. The entire administration's work is guided by six core values: citizen-focused service, creativity, commitment, integrity, respect, and rigor.

"Performance is at the heart of our mission and values. At the City of Trois-Rivières, senior management is fully committed to supporting this culture, because it represents far more than tracking results: it reflects our determination to excel together. Every employee contributes to building a stronger, more innovative, and citizen-focused organization. As management, our role is to create the right conditions for performance to become a sustainable engine of collective success"

Stella-Jones Steel Structures

Since 2019, Stella-Jones Steel Structures (Locweld) has been engaged in a structured journey toward excellence through its membership in the Quebec Quality Movement (MQQ). Active within this network of manufacturing companies, the organization participates in five annual meetings that foster the sharing of best practices, continuous improvement, and total quality.

Represented since 2021, Stella-Jones Steel Structures (Locweld) has transformed these learnings into tangible results through the Quebec Performance Awards (PPQ) — the province’s highest distinction in management. After earning a regional distinction in 2020 and a high commendation in 2022, the company reached the highest level of excellence in 2024 by winning the Trophy, a first in four years. This recognition crowns an exemplary journey of continuous improvement, now honored on a national scale by Excellence Canada.

Pierre Lavoie
President and Chief Financial Officer

“It is with immense pride that we receive the Platinum Excellence Canada award — a milestone achievement for Stella-Jones Steel Structures. Since 1947, we have been fabricating transmission lattice towers, backed by more than 77 years of expertise. This distinction celebrates our commitment to excellence and innovation, while carrying forward Locweld’s legacy and our dedication to delivering reliable, customer-focused steel solutions”

The Corporation of the Town of Aurora

Aurora strikes a rare balance of small-town charm with big-city access and amenities. Located just north of Toronto, we’re a community where opportunity and quality of life go hand in hand, supported by a strong local economy and countless ways to stay active and engaged.

With more than 800 acres of parkland, best-in-class recreation, award-winning special events, and programming for all ages, Aurora takes active living seriously. We’ve recently created new pickleball opportunities, modernized our playgrounds, strengthened our active transportation network, and expanded our largest recreation centre to give residents even more ways to stay healthy and connected.

Our new Aurora Town Square cultural centre has quickly become the heart of the town, a place for the arts, events and community connection. And as we further develop our historic downtown, we’re blending its heritage character with new shops, restaurants, and destinations like the Slabtown Armoury – an exciting new partnership with Slabtown Cidery Company inside the historic Aurora Armoury.

Aurora is also home to builders and innovators. Local entrepreneurs continue to open community-focused businesses, and major employers invest here because of our talent, location, and reputation. Above all, Aurora residents care about their neighbours, environment, and a shared future.

“Achieving Platinum Certification is a tremendous honour for the Town of Aurora and a testament to the dedicated work of our staff. This recognition demonstrates our commitment to strengthening the organization, improving the services we provide, and building a culture of excellence that benefits both staff and our entire community.”

Introducing...

T.H.R.I.V.E

Building Healthy, High-Performing Workplaces

Excellence Canada's T.H.R.I.V.E Standard brings Healthy Workplace and Mental Health at Work together in one progressive framework—helping organizations build, sustain, and celebrate a culture where people and performance flourish.

In a rapidly changing world, T.H.R.I.V.E provides the structure, strategy, and support to create safe, respectful, and resilient workplaces. It aligns with Excellence Canada's Healthy Workplace and Mental Health at Work frameworks, and the CSA/BNQ Psychological Health and Safety Standard, giving organizations a practical roadmap for excellence.

Why T.H.R.I.V.E Matters

When people are well, organizations excel. Thriving workplaces see greater trust, engagement, and innovation—within their teams and communities.

T.H.R.I.V.E helps organizations:

- Strengthen health, safety & well-being
- Build engaged, high-performing teams
- Identify and manage health-related risks
- Attract and retain top talent

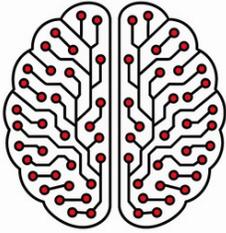

Public Safety Personnel Services (PSPS)

Public Safety Personnel face unique physical and mental demands. In partnership with the Toronto Police Service, Excellence Canada is developing a custom T.H.R.I.V.E Guide for the PSPS sector, including input from Nipissing Paramedic Services, Wounded Warriors and others—offering strategies and examples tailored to their realities.
